

Department Manager Decathlon (Full time job for graduates)

Company :

Founded in 1976, Decathlon has become the European leader in sports retailing, now ranked third worldwide. We are also the ninth largest designer and manufacturer of sports equipment in the world. Our products are sold in our stores under our brand names. We provide choice, value, advice and services to ensure total satisfaction for all our customers in their sporting and outdoor activities. With 730 stores worldwide, we are now entering the Slovak market and looking for motivated graduates.

Job :

Join us as a department manager, you'll be running your own business from the start: Recruiting, training and managing your own team, planning your commercial activity and managing your stock to ensure you run a profitable business. It's not a nine-to-five desk job, so you'll need plenty of energy and a desire to work hands-on, in a customer-facing environment. In return you'll get plenty of training and coaching, real responsibility and the opportunity to work with the sport you love. Now's a great time to join us, because we want today's department managers to be tomorrow's Store Managers and beyond.

Profile :

Graduate and/or with previous experience, you're Slovak and passionate about sport and you are seeking a managerial role. You're energetic and have a sense of responsibility and organisation. Your service attitude and team spirit are your key strengths. You want an active role where you'll be making decisions every day. You speak English fluently. French is a plus.
