MATHEMATICAL ANALYSIS

Characteristics of the study program

- Title of the study program: Mathematical Analysis
- Study field 9.1.1: Mathematical Analysis
- Degree of the study: doctoral
- Duration of study: 4 academic years
- Degree: philosophiae doctor (PhD.)
- Guarantor of the program: prof. RNDr. L'ubomír Snoha, DrSc.

Scope of the study program

The main focus of the program is deep understanding of current state of research and ability of a graduate student to contribute to the knowledge, in the field of Mathematical Analysis. The graduate study comprises two parts: a study part and a research part. A plan of the study is prepared by the supervisor, and should be approved by a committee.

Profile of a graduate

The program aims at preparing a self-standing researcher in the field of Mathematical Analysis. A graduate has a firm theoretical basis as well as a familiarity with the main applications. A graduate can study current publications in the field and use their results in solving theoretical as well as applied problems. A graduate can communicate her/his results to other researchers and have skills for teaching courses at the undergraduate level. A graduate can also easily adapt to other fields where mathematics is applied.

Requirements on applicants

An applicant is required to have completed the Master-degree in mathematics. Masters in other subjects are considered on case-by-case basis. All applicants have to pass an entrance exam. The exam committee is appointed by the Dean of the Faculty of Natural Sciences. Supervisor of a prospective graduate student is a member of the exam committee.
