ADMISSIONS

General information on the admissions process (bachelor's and master's degree programmes)

For all applicants, the admissions process begins by submitting an application. Applicants may apply for multiple programmes, but they must submit a separate application for each programme they apply to. There is no limit on the number of submitted applications.

Applicants to the Faculty of Arts are strongly encouraged to apply electronically. If an applicant is unable to submit an electronic application, they may send a paper application to the following address:

Filozofická fakulta UMB
 Študijné oddelenie
 Tajovského 40
 974 01 Banská Bystrica

The paper application must include the form published on the website of the Ministry of Education, Research, Development and Youth (<https://www.minedu.sk/prihlaska-na-studium-vypis-z-danoveho-priznania-a-ine-formulare/>). The form must be filled in completely, hand-signed by the applicant and accompanied by all the other necessary documents.

The application must include:

- the applicant's CV
- a notarized copy of the applicant's secondary-school-leaving examination certificate (applies to applicants for bachelor's programmes who have completed secondary school)
- a notarized copy of the applicant's bachelor's-level state examination diploma (applies to applicants for master's programmes who have completed their bachelor's studies)
- a copy of the applicant's bachelor's diploma supplement or, if they have not yet completed their bachelor's studies, the transcript of records from their bachelor's studies (this applies to master's-programme applicants from other universities)
- a copy of the proof of payment for the application fee paid via bank transfer (in the case of paper applications)
- a certificate of fitness from a doctor (applies to programme: Teaching of English Language and Literature and Teaching of Physical Education, Teaching of German Language and Literature and Teaching of Physical Education, Teaching of Russian Language and Literature and Teaching of Physical Education)
- a certificate of proficiency in Slovak as a foreign/second language at the required level (at least B2 or C1 depending on the study programme criteria) issued by a language

school included in the network of schools and educational institutions of the Ministry of Education, Research, Development and Youth of the Slovak Republic (registered public language schools: https://www.cvtisr.sk/buxus/docs/JH/stat_zus.pdf and private language schools: https://www.cvtisr.sk/buxus/docs/JH/sukromne_sasz.pdf) – required for foreign applicants to bachelor’s programmes (except for applicants to the programme Slovak for the Linguistic and Cultural Competence of International Students) and foreign applicants to master’s programmes who studied in a language other than Slovak at the bachelor’s level

- specifically required enclosures for the programmes Slovak for the Linguistic and Cultural Competence of International Students

Electronic applications must include scans of all required documents (with stamps and signatures clearly visible) as attachments. After the form is completely filled in and all the attachments have been added, the application must be confirmed by clicking the button “Confirm application.” The complete and confirmed electronic application will only be considered submitted after the admissions fee has been paid.

After submitting their application, applicants for bachelor’s studies must also deliver, by post or by hand, a notarized copy of their secondary-school-leaving examination certificate to the faculty study department by 13 June 2025.

Applicants for bachelor’s studies who have been granted asylum, subsidiary protection or temporary protection may demonstrate their attainment of full secondary education or full secondary vocational education by providing a declaration on their honour with the requested information. The declaration of honour and official document confirming the granting of asylum, subsidiary protection or temporary protection must be delivered by hand or via post to the faculty’s admissions office by 13 June 2025. If an applicant demonstrates their attained education with a declaration of honour, they must also complete a general academic prerequisite test administered by the company Scio. The applicant does not need to provide evidence of the results of the general academic prerequisite test, but when filling out the application form for the test at <https://www.scio.sk/>, they must give consent to the provision of the test results to the faculty. The applicant must also fulfil the admission requirements of the particular study programme they choose.

Applicants for master's programmes must deliver, without written notice from the faculty, a notarized copy of their diploma and bachelor's degree state examination certificate to the faculty’s admissions office by 15 July 2025 (this applies to applicants from other universities).

Applicants who do not present any evidence of meeting the basic admission requirements by the given deadline will be accepted conditionally. Applicants are obliged to present a notarized copy of a secondary-school-leaving examination certificate (applicants for bachelor’s programmes)/a notarized copy of a diploma and bachelor’s-degree state-examination certificate (this applies to master’s-programme applicants from other universities) by the day of enrolment at the very latest; otherwise, they cannot begin their studies.

Applicants who have completed a previous level of education abroad are obliged to prove the recognition of any education certificate obtained outside the Slovak Republic. The admitted applicant is obliged to present proof of recognition for their education certificate no later than the day of enrolment.

Basic admission requirements for bachelor’s studies:

- completed secondary-school education or secondary vocational education with a school-leaving certificate

- meeting the requirements of the admission proceedings

Basic admission requirements for master’s studies:

- a university degree at the bachelor’s or master’s level
- meeting the requirements of the admission proceedings

Basic admission requirements for foreign applicants to bachelor’s and master’s programmes:

- successful passing of the entrance examination
- confirmation of acceptance of the applicant’s certificate of education completed abroad at the required level of education (with the exception of certificates from the Czech Republic, for which a confirmation is not needed)

Admission requirements for bachelor’s studies

Bachelor’s Degree Programmes in the Field of Study Teacher Training and Education Science:

Teaching of English Language and Literature (combination study)

English language proficiency at the B2 level or higher according to the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages is a prerequisite for studying Teaching of English Language and Literature in every programme combination. Applicants must complete a general academic prerequisites test, part of the National Comparative Exams administered by the company Scio, in place of an entrance exam. Results from a previous Scio test no older than three years will also be accepted. Applicants will be accepted in the order of their achieved percentile on the test until the planned number of accepted applicants for the given combination has been reached.

Applicants who present a certificate obtained by completing at least one of the following examinations will earn the maximum score in the admission proceedings (without being required to take the Scio test):

- University of Cambridge ESOL Examinations, Certificate in Advanced English
- University of Cambridge ESOL Examinations, Certificate of Proficiency in English
- University of Cambridge ESOL Examinations, First Certificate in English – score A
- IELTS – International English Language Testing System – minimum level 6.5
- secondary-school-leaving examination on the English language
 - level C1 – final result excellent, very good
 - level B2 – external portion minimum 85% mark + oral portion result “excellent”

If the number of applicants does not exceed the planned number of accepted students, the requirement to take the entrance exam will be waived.

Teaching of French Language and Literature (combination study)

No entrance examination. French language proficiency at the A2 level or higher according to the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages is a prerequisite for studying Teaching of French Language and Literature in every programme combination.

Applicants must demonstrate their level of French language proficiency by presenting at least one of the following documents:

- an internationally recognized DELF or DALF French language diploma
- secondary-school-leaving examination in the French language – level B1
- a certificate of completion from a French bilingual section of a gymnasium

- a French language proficiency certificate from a public or private language school in Slovakia or from a foreign institution that is authorized to issue French language proficiency certificates

Teaching of Philosophy and Civics (combination study)

Applicants will be accepted in an order based on (I) their average final-year school-report results and (II) their average marks from Civics (or an equivalent course), with (I) constituting a maximum of 60 points and (II) constituting a maximum of 40 points out of 100. The final order of applicants will be determined after points are calculated for the admission proceedings of each sub-programme in the combination programme.

Teaching of History (combination study)

Applicants must complete a general academic prerequisites test, part of the National Comparative Exams administered by the company Scio, in place of an entrance exam. Results from a previous Scio test no older than three years will also be accepted.

If the number of applicants does not exceed the planned number of accepted students, the requirement to take the entrance exam will be waived.

Teaching of German Language and Literature (combination study)

German language proficiency at the B1 level or higher according to the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages is a prerequisite for studying Teaching of German Language and Literature in every programme combination.

Applicants will be accepted on the basis of their scores on a general academic prerequisites test, part of the National Comparative Exams administered by the company Scio, in place of an entrance exam. Results from a previous Scio test no older than three years will also be accepted. Applicants who present a certificate obtained by completing at least one of the following examinations will earn the maximum score in the admission proceedings (without being required to take the Scio test):

- Großes Deutsches Sprachdiplom
- TestDaF
- Goethe-Zertifikat, level B1 or higher
- ÖSD, level B1 or higher
- German language diploma DSD I PRO, level B1 or higher
- secondary-school-leaving examination on the German language, level B1 or higher
- a certificate of completion of secondary-school studies from a German bilingual section of a gymnasium

If the number of applicants does not exceed the planned number of accepted students, the requirement to take the entrance exam will be waived.

Teaching of Russian Language and Literature (combination study)

Russian language proficiency at the A2 level or higher according to the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages is a prerequisite for studying Teaching of Russian Language and Literature in every programme combination.

The required level of Russian language proficiency shall be demonstrated with documents (school reports) showing the applicant's marks from their secondary-school Russian language course. For foreign applicants proficient in Russian at the A2 level or higher, this requirement may be waived in properly justified cases if substituted by documentation (school reports) showing the applicant's marks from secondary-school studies of a foreign language.

If the number of applicants exceeds the planned enrolment for the programme, the faculty reserves the right to select applicants according to their averaged results from the secondary-school-leaving examination and their average marks from their secondary-school Russian language course or, in the case of applicants from countries where the Russian language cannot be studied in secondary school, their average marks from their secondary-school studies of a foreign language.

Teaching of Slovak Language and Literature (combination study)

Applicants must complete a general academic prerequisites test, part of the National Comparative Exams administered by the company Scio, in place of an entrance exam. Results from a previous Scio test no older than three years will also be accepted.

If the number of applicants does not exceed the planned number of accepted students, the requirement to take the entrance exam will be waived.

Non-Teaching Bachelor's Degree Programmes:

History

Applicants must complete a general academic prerequisites test, part of the National Comparative Exams administered by the company Scio, in place of an entrance exam. Results from a previous Scio test no older than three years will also be accepted.

If the number of applicants does not exceed the planned number of accepted students, the requirement to take the entrance exam will be waived.

Slovak for the Linguistic and Cultural Competence of International Students

This programme is only open to foreign applicants. As these applicants have completed their secondary education outside of Slovakia, they must present documentation of recognition of their secondary education completion certificate. Applications for this programme must include a letter of motivation in English no longer than one standard page. The motivation letter must contain:

1. basic information about the applicant’s previous studies and interests, as well as the reasons why they are interested in studying in this programme and in studying in Slovakia
2. previous academic achievements (include photocopies of the relevant documents, e.g. certificates, awards from competitions, etc.)
3. why the applicant is an eligible candidate for this programme
4. future plans (after graduation) and how these plans relate to the study of Slovak

Motivation letters will be evaluated based on the following criteria: originality, form, content, originality of content and style, and creativity. If the applicant does not provide a letter of motivation by the application deadline, their application will be considered invalid and will be returned to them. The admissions committee decides the order in which applicants are admitted based on an anonymous evaluation of their letters of motivation.
